Part V is about beneficiaries. They also foresee a role for such entities in providing treaty bodies with information essential to the monitoring process. Ashinybookofz? From a legal centralist standpoint, John Griffiths writes, "law is and should be the law of the state, uniform for all persons, exclusive of all other law, and administered by a single set of state institutions. It offers treatment of specific areas, in particular remedial constructive trusts and trusts of family homes. In: Cullet, Philippe and Koonan, Sujith, eds. The use of constructive trusts in cohabitation disputes is analysed. LeonPe approach is developed further under the section on legal pluralism.
